

JUST AN ORDINARY YEAR OF ACCIDENTS.
Manchester Union—Contrary to what might be generally supposed this year has not been one of a large number of accidents. In spite of all the World's Fair train trouble, accident insurance companies report no considerable increase in accidents during the year.

A DEMOCRATIC PROTEST.

Troy Press (Dem.)—God reigns in Israel, and no Tariff smashing crusade can win. The great manufacturing districts have two many Democratic Representatives in both branches of Congress to enable the miscalled revenue reformers to wipe out the home of Protective features, whose retention is demanded by every patriotic American interest.

THEY WANT CERTAINTY.

New York Letter to Philadelphia Press—There is a movement which is likely to be supported by the English and New York importers, by many of the manufacturers and a good many business men, which has for its purpose the asking of Congress to fit into joint resolution a day in the future when the new Tariff law, whatever it is, is to go into effect.

The reason for this proposition is that importers and manufacturers can only know the precise day upon which a new Tariff law, if there is any, is to operate, then they will have certainty and will know how to arrange their business so as best to meet the new condition. It is rather curious to note that this proposition was advanced by those who were conspicuous in the support of Mr. Cleveland last fall as the apostle of Free-trade, or something like it; and it is also rather interesting to hear men who were vacillators during the campaign of last year now insist that Congress must not do anything more than to revise that McKinley law, reduce the schedules a little and add some things to the free list.

The number of out and out Free-traders seems to have been definitely diminished since the last campaign and so far as the Democratic party in this vicinity is concerned it is more of a Protection party than it has ever been, not differing from the Republicans on the question of Protection but simply on what the rate of Protection should be and what things should be Protected.

A MOVEMENT is on foot to start another Popular paper at Paducah.

AT THE OPERA-HOUSE.

"Faust" Was Presented Last Night for the First Time.

For the first time in the city, Faust was presented last night at the Opera House, and it was the best attraction that has been at that popular institution this season. Everybody was pleased, and when you picas a Mayville audience the show must be good. The audience is fine, and those who are here this morning, who have what is known as three cases of grip, and anyone who has had one case can sympathize with him. He hopes to be out in a few days.

WHEN THE MILL BELLS RING.

Won't the lads be happy, and the lassies all so gay?

When the sunrises, dreary, drowsy, have forever passed away?

When the spindles are all whirling, and the looms are all singing?

And the hours of fun and frolic to their lives when it is all over?

When the loitering and looling, for a time at least, is all over?

And the tables laden with good eatables galore?

When the housewives sing—oh, the busyness goes!

Oh, won't it be jolly when it is all over?

When the mill bells ring?

And the trader who is haunting his long-deserted place, Boring round his useless yardstick, scarcely from the dawn of rosy morning to the shades of evening gray.

Waiting for the buyer who seems bound to keep away—

Or the keeper to the music of the specie in his till?

How his fears of sad disaster to the breezes he has seen!

And rejoice in peace and plenty when the mill bells ring?

Where is That Banner Now?

Greenwood (Ind.) Review—During the last campaign the banner was carried by our men in the front ranks bearing this inscrip-

VOTE FOR GROVER CLEVELAND

AND GET

WHAT YOU WANTED.

A liberal reward will be paid for that banner at this office, and no questions asked.

It is only a narrow mind that will speak of the United States as a "narrow market."

With Free-trade wages, Free-trade prices and Free-trade profits in sight, it will be doubly obligatory upon the incoming Legislature to keep appropriations down to the lowest practicable figure.

The raw material the Democracy are slobbering over so much and propose to put on the free list should be drug from our own hills. Why? Because it gives employment to American labor. Isn't it better for the people of this country to dig the ore here, rather than get it from Cuba, from Spain, from Canada, or any other foreign country? The American miners here; the American teamsters here; it is to the furnace and an ear for it, and the money kept at home. What is not the common sense of doing it?

Every year the Democratic party sets up the plea that it is the foregathered of the Almighty to protect the laboring man from the greed of capitalistic corromptors who would devour them, and there are numberless men in this Congressional district who accept it as divine truth, and vote the Democratic ticket in and year out.

It is something astonishing to us that any intelligent man should go deliberately to work and insure his party that he has the right to supremacy in this Government on the ground that it favors the admission of raw material we can produce at home, into this country from foreign ports free of duty.

It is a great wrong, according to the acute ethical sensibilities of this Administration, to refuse to restore a dissolute Polynesian woman to her throne, but an act of patriotism and humanity to turn hundreds of thousands of American men and women out of employment on the threshold of a bitter winter.

"The United States are especially interested, etc," declares Mr. CLEVELAND in one passage of his message. In another passage he speaks of "those countries with which the United States has not already, etc." A deep fog seems to envelop the White House as to whether the United States "is" or "are" a Nation.

The White House Free-trade oracle grants that "our workingmen" will quickly deserve compensation for combating Tariff changes in the "steady employment" which free raw materials will insure them. The hundreds of thousands of men engaged in the production of wool, iron ore, coal, salt and lumber are not "workingmen," then?

Don't fail to see "Faust" at the Opera-house to-night.

HARRIET WILSON, an octogenarian of 27 years, shook the dust off her feet of this earth by the morphine route.

FRANKFORT is looking to the establishment of a State Reformatory for its inmates. She already was one, but it crowded now.

The shortest day in the year comes just before Christmas. That is right. Christmas itself is plainly long enough for the boys.

WILLIAM TITT, colored, and two children, live near Central City, were poisoned with arsenic. It was in the bread they were eating.

Three local lawyers of Louisville have received fees of $10,000 each for recovering Australian estates for a claimant. Now the lawyers will make a run on Louisville.

The good citizens of Flemington are determined to have something besides twilight. They are now agitating the electric light again. We hope they will succeed.

LEE TINGER, a miner wife, have made up at Lexington, and now the bells will ring on the second set. They have kissed sixteen times in fifteen minutes since the traces ended.

FRANK P. SCARCE, who tried to make himself scarce by breaking out of the Lexington jail, plead guilty to the charge of forgery at Lexington, and will be sent to Frankfort to bottom chains for ten years.

RILEY HUGHES, a miner employed in the mines in Ohio, threw a wet lump of black powder on his clothes, which exploded, causing him to go blind forever, turning Hughes and his family, his wife and daughter dying in a few hours, and of course Hughes will get well.

The miners never learn any sense! An old hayseed Peter Ruthus, who lives near Yanceyburg, was asked by a stranger to sign a slip of paper, which he did, and the next day he was astonished to find that a neighbor had his note for $100, which the stranger had closed.

FRANK P. SCARCE, who tried to make himself scarce by breaking out of the Lexington jail, plead guilty to the charge of forgery at Lexington, and will be sent to Frankfort to bottom chains for ten years.

THE CAPITAL

Fairly Swarming With Delegations of Manufacturers

From Almost Every Section of Our Great Country.

Members of Ways and Means Committee Designated Manufacturers Meet the White Tarin to Change to Meet the Views of their Interests.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—The capital was fairly swarming Thursday morning with delegations from all over the country, who had come to see the members of the ways and means committee and press upon them the necessity for changing the Wilson bill so as to meet the views of every interest affected. The manufacturers, however, hid themselves behind the big doors of the committee room and refused to allow anyone to enter, and the only information they would give out was that they intended to have the bill ready for the house on Wednesday, December 13. There is a slight opposition to this date from the superintendents, because they do not like that "13."

During the afternoon Chairman Wilson, Breckinridge of Alabama, and S. C. Dobbs of Georgia, sent a delegation from manufacturing interests. Mr. Breckinridge spent some time with the representatives of the silk and plush interests from Paterson, N. J., who came to rebel against the abolition of the duty on raw materials used by them, and the manufactured articles which the Wilson bill put at only 5 per cent difference.

Isidore Strauss of New York, was here also fighting against the income tax, while he was very busy listening to other complaints.

The feature of the day, however, was the circulation by Harter, of Ohio, of a petition to the committee asking for a change in the sugar schedule. His proposition is to abolish the sugar tax altogether and to put a specific duty of one cent per pound on raw sugar, and this would make it one and one-fourth cent on refined or all above sixteen, Dutch Standard. The petition was signed by 100,000 persons, but as far as not met with much endorsement. Thursday morning, however, he claims to have met with more success. It requires a majority of the democratic members to entitle it to any consideration of the committee.

PRENDERGAST TRIAL.

Four Jurors Sworn in the Case—Business Men Try the Alleged Crank.

CHICAGO, Dec. 8.—Brennan's court room was filled Thursday morning by men and women from the second of Eugene Prendergast's trial opened. A majority of the audience consisted of a hundred special veniremen summoned from the business district of the south side to be examined to find fit jurors for the trial.

Carter H. Harrison's lawyer shall spend the rest of his life in the Illinois asylum for insane criminals or die on the gallows.

When the morning session was half over, the defense called in Frank S. Tamm, special counsel for the state, appeared and took the seat of State's Attorney Kern, to supervise the examination of veniremen. The prosecution used its fourth peremptory challenge on one of the hold-over veniremen who had appeared to be acceptable.

One venireman, who was excused for cause, had not formed an opinion as to whether Carter Harrison was dead or alive, because "he did not take much stock in newspaper stories."

Before a recess was taken four intelligent-looking jurors had been sworn in. John W. S. Allen, Alfred Wonder, C. E. Reed and C. W. Hamilton. All are business men.

Any of the above difficulties, and many more, are advance symptoms of insanity. Some quiet, simple, and quiet dieting will be of great assistance.

IN THE SENATE.

Several Unimportant Bills Passed—Adjournment Until Monday.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—The Senate (deemed by the House) passed a joint resolution in the senate authorizing the secretary of war to grant permission of the use of the grounds in the monument reservation and other public reservations on the occasion of the Persian King's visit to the United States in 1896, and it was passed.

The following bills were also passed. House bill to amend the railway land forfeiture acts, senate bill granting to the state of North Dakota, for the use of its inland lands, certain rights, a portion of the land reservation for Fort Totten's military reservation; a private relief bill appropriating $5,000 for damage done to a farm in the District of Columbia during the week of November 25, 1896, in which Fort Sedgwick was erected, a decision which was continued over an hour, and finally the bill was passed—yes, 35; nays, 11.

Three other private bills were passed, including one granting a pension of $100 a month to the widow of Gen. John M. Corse. The senate then, after an executive session, adjourned till Monday next.

DR. MEYER'S JURY.

The Alleged Poisoner's Trial is Now in Progress.

NEW YORK, Dec. 8.—The jury to try Dr. H. C. Meyer was completed at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The twelve jurors had been examined yesterday before the two empty seats in the box were filled, and out of 700 citizens summoned on special panels during the week 379 had been examined.

The jury is composed of exceptionally intelligent business men. Assistant District Attorney John F. McIntyre, who prepared the case, made the opening address.

Mr. McIntyre spoke briefly two hours, and stated what was probably the most fair and, at the same time, the most heinous of machination crimes ever heard within the walls of a New York courtroom. When he described the last days of the unfortunate Brandt and the sad and dandish methods of the defendant a perceptible shudder ran through his more than attentive listeners.

IDENTIFIED.

Is the Man Who Was Killed While Breaking Into a House.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Dec. 8.—The body of the man who was killed by Roger Setters, Jr., while attempting to break into his house, was identified Tuesday by Capt. Summers of the steamer Harry D. Knox, as that of the clerk on the steamer, W. A. Jones.

Jones, who was an exemplary man, was subjected to fits of insanity, caused by being struck in the head by a bullet, and died with sand wedge a railroad accident in California. The unfortunate man's family live at Saratoga, Wilson county, N. C., and have been notified.

In his court, which was opened Thursday morning, a letter telling where his family resided, and stating that he had money in bank, which in case of his death he wished his father to dispose of as he thought fit. River men are indignant over what they term the brutal treatment of Jones after he received his mortal wound.

CHICAGO, Dec. 8.—The police are using their best efforts to find the author of a mysterious circular which has been distributed about the city. The circular is a formidable document in its tone and aims to call 10,000 men to meet on the lake front at daybreak, December 12, fully armed.

The circular purports to have been sent out by a farmer near Wheaton, Ill., and its object is a deep, dark mystery. Thursday morning, the circular was handed to a passenger on an incoming Chicago and Northwestern train, and was taken by the passenger to Chief Brennan. A few moments later Inspector Laughlin arrived at headquarters with a similar circular, which it was believed was written by a man to whom it was handed by an unknown pedestrian on Clark street.

HILL'S BILL.

Bill for the Repeal of the Federal Election Laws
To Be Called Up in the Senate by Senator Hill Monday.

The Senator says he will Substitute the Bill which passed the House on this Subject before the Adjournment of the Extra Session.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—Senator David B. Hill, after a long delay of the adjournment of the Senate, Thursday morning gave premise of battle next Monday morning by announcing that he would that day call up the bill for the repeal of the federal election laws which was the first bill submitted and reported from the committee on the adjournment of the senate. He further announced that he would have to substitute the bill which passed the house on this subject before the adjournment of the extra session.

He had been a member of the judiciary committee which reported back the Hill bill, asked Mr. Hill very pointedly if the judiciary committee had not carefully availed itself of the absence of all the Republicans, members of the committee, from the Hill bill. He also gave notice that he would resolutely oppose the reference of the bill from the house to the judiciary committee, and would insist upon its proper reference to the committee on privilege and procedure. As Mr. Waller, the chairman of that committee, has himself reported a bill which is identical with the house bill, it is evident that the question of reference cut no further figure than to indicate the general fight that will be made Monday night over the right of the Senate to act. Later in the day Mr. Hill was invited by Vice President Stevenson, to preside over the senate. The New York senator performed this function with an activity that betrayed the practice gained in the chamber of the legislative assembly of the New York senate. The senate was devoting itself to the consideration and passage of minor bills, and the promptness, not to say haste, with which Mr. Hill pushed through these bills in preference to the veterans who resembled ex-Senator Ingall's record of 38 bills in one hour.

Railroad Disaster.

RICHMOND, Va., Dec. 8.—A Bluefield (W. Va.) special to the Dispatch says: "A terrible accident occurred on the Ohio extension of the Norfolk & Western railroad at the junction of the place in which Engineer W. E. Stocker and Fireman W. H. Hall lost their lives, a portion of their train being detached while going down a very steep grade. Engineer Stocker was running his engine at a high rate of speed to avoid being run into by the engine leader of his train, when his engine left the track and turned over, with the above result. One brakeman of the crew lost a foot."

THOSE DOCUMENTS
On Hawaii Which Congress Wants Cleared and Made Known.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—When the president complies with the resolution passed by the Senate to send him in all the correspondence in his office from 1881 to 1883, a period of twelve years, the result will probably be one of the bulkiest executive documents on record. The reports, correspondence and affidavits incidental thereto will be voluminous, and the report, as printed for semi-private circulation, on the long folio sheets affected by the state department, over 500 pages, many of them in very close type.

As rearranged and reduced, the documents will be much more compact, and, as far as possible, the number of pages will be doubled. Then, as intimated by Ex-President Harrison, in an interview soon after Mr. Gresham's letter to President Cleveland, of October 18 last, the public prints will be limited to correspondence on Hawaiian matters which took place during the time of the Harrison administration, which has not yet seen the light of day, and which the ex-president, in that interview, said he did not desire should now be made public.

And to these important documents all those that have gone before since 1881, which of course will include the facts in relation to the two previous revolutions, will be added to the Minister's answer to the Commission of Inquiry.
